

All:Ready Network

A TRI-COUNTY, CROSS-SECTOR NETWORK FOR KINDERGARTEN READINESS

Vision

In our community, we know that poverty, racism, and ableism create barriers and gaps in kindergarten readiness. We also know that all families want the best for their children—to see them healthy and thrive. It's our jobs as system leaders to work together, across sectors, to close gaps and make it easy for families to meet their goals.

By 2028, the Regional Kindergarten Readiness Network will redesign how we work together so that race, class, and disability no longer predict families' access to and use of quality early childhood supports and services that ensure readiness for Kindergarten and beyond.

Critical Shifts

The Network identified several critical shifts that the collaborative must work on in order to achieve its goal:

- Sectors and systems are accountable for integrated, family-centered, culturally excellent access and care when and where families need it
- Systems and institutions actively promote healing, racial justice and community self-determination
- Systems and programs impacting young children are well resourced, aligned, and sustainable to support the long-term success of priority children and families across all communities

Highlights

Over three years, with the generous contributions of volunteers and the support of all our member organizations and the Health Share staff, the All:Ready Network has:

- Established its identity, name and branding
- Created a forum for sustained and trusting cross-sector relationships that did not exist before
- Developed a website, a bold definition of Kindergarten Readiness, and a robust data dashboard
- Rooted itself in anti-racism and trauma-informed definitions and an ongoing Learning and Action Series
- Supported a bold dialogue and developed a clinical pilot on centering Black wellness and healing driven by the Healthy Birth Initiative families
- Researched and developed a fiscal analysis of early childhood funding streams in the region
- Delivered over 1800 culturally specific family care boxes during the pandemic
- Countless ripple effects and spin-off projects
